Fun Facts: The birth of the Rosè version of Prosecco Doc Treviso, opens to the use of Pinot Noir vinified in red, a practice that gives the sparkling wine a characteristic pink color and enriches it with more evolved fruity and floral scents.

The name Tor Sè comes from the encounter between Tordera and Rosè, a new combination that unites Glera, which has always been the identity of La Tordera, and the Pinot Nero variety that characterizes the production of this sparkling wine.
